Our journal entries for the above:

Table 9: General Journal Entries for Sales Activity

	Account #	Description	Debit	Credit
A	1000	Cash-Checking Account	$250
	4000	Sales Revenue		$250
B	1000	Cash-Checking Account	$595
	4000	Sales Revenue		$595
C	5300	Office Supplies	$75
	1000	Cash-Checking Account		$75
D	4000	Sales Revenue		$400
	1000	Cash-Checking Account	$360
	5100	Postage	$12
	5200	Shipping Supplies	$28
E	5000	Rent Expense	$600
	1000	Cash-Checking Account		$600

If you review our rules from Chapter 1, you'll notice that the total debits and total credits are equal in each transaction recorded. Using double-entry accounting, this must be the case.

We can take the amounts from the Sales Revenue account:

- Entry A—New Logo: $250
- Entry B—Mobile website: $595
- Entry D—Brochures/Posters: $400
- TOTAL FOR PERIOD: $1,245

This gives us the money we earned in total for the month.

We can now take the amounts from the expense accounts:

- Entry C—Office Supplies: $75
- Entry D—Postage/Shipping: $40
